Throughout our High School years, there have been many people who have contributed to the success of the Class of '83. Each person has added something special and we thank each and every one of them.

After careful consideration, however, we chose to recognize Mrs. Wunschel for her outstanding contributions to the Class of 1983. Her selfless support and encouragement have instilled in the Class a profound unity. With Mrs. Wunschel's enthusiastic assistance, the Senior Class has learned about cooperation and dedication. For this we, the Class of 1983, are proud to DEDICATE our Yearbook to you — BO!!

With eternal gratitude,
The Class of 1983

1983 AT A GLANCE . . .

Reagan was in, so was unemployment

General Hospital cured the stay at home blues, while Mrs. Ciciotte cured the stay at school blues.

A whale was beached at Rocky, but, of course we've been beached for years.

E.T. phoned home and Michael Julian accepted the charges.

The bottle-bill was passed and Flat-Top continued to save all our "cans."

Pac Man stole all of our quarters, but so did many of our glasses.

The hockey team got Coopperalls and they beat the pants off everyone else.

And, finally, the SENIORS gave their farewell stage performance and we wish they'll continue to fare well in life . . .

"GRADUATION DAY"

Today we'll start a new life
And we'll say our last goodbyes,
To all the firends we've grown to know
With whom we've laughed and cried.
Remembering the fun and laughter,
The problems and the fears,
And watching all our memories grow
Throughout our high school years.
The memories of the dances,
And the new friends that we've met,
Vacations, teachers, talking, and exams we'd rather forget.
Yes, high school days are precious but brief,
When all your dreams come true;
It's not the end, but the beginning,
Of a life we'll start a new.

SPORTS

Fall Sports Wrap Up

FOOTBALL (3-5-2)
COACH John Leone CAPTAINS Bill Cuff, Rich Evans

Lacking size and depth, this year's football team was fighting an uphill battle. But with thre wins and a tie behind them, the gridsters managed to hold top-ranked Duxbury to a tie t highlight the season. Bill Cuff, Pat Broderick, Rich Evans, Jay Santini, Tom O'Brien, Bo Meers, Dan Anderson, and Tom Wright will be sorely missed next year.

BOYS' SOCCER (6-7-1)
COACH Jon Anderson CAPTAIN Danny Bowen

With but three returning seniors, this year's soccer team was young and inexperience However, the talent was there. And with a little foreign aid in the person of Jaime Stallard, th Skippers ended up with a near .500 record. Graduating are Dan Bowen, Chris Mahoney, Jaim Stallard, Rob Lowe, and Sean O'Connor.

GIRLS' SOCCER (6-10-2)
COACH Bill Fallon CAPTAINS Amy Duncombe, Ginger Ralff, Tara Pompeo

For the girls' soccer team the season was a disappointment. While having a wealth of tale and great coaching, things just didn't come together. But with 7 returning sophomore starter the future looks bright. Lost to graduation will be Tara Pompeo, Maureen Kelly, Krissie Ral and Katie Clinton.

FIELD HOCKEY (8-8)
COACH Gino DiGirolamo CAPTAINS Gia Baressi, Justine Hoffman, AnnMarie Lagrotteria

Returning for his third year, Mr. Di steered this year's field hockey team to a respectab .500 season. With sufficient talent but a lack of depth, the Skippers had consistency problem Foreign exchange student Anne Koehrer proved to be a great asset as did other seniors M Graham, Justine Hoffman, Joy Pratt, Jill Grant, AnnMarie Lag., Gia Baresi, and Liz and Em Glasfeld.

CROSS COUNTRY (3-7)
COACH John Mica CAPTAINS Mark Brown, Paul Johnson

Lacking sufficient numbers, this year's cross country team had a discouraging seas However, the team stuck together under the leadership of seniors Mark Brown, Paul Johns Susan Hobson, Jeff Giles, Andy Long, and Bill Davenport to put in a great effort.

Winter Sports Wrap Up

ICE HOCKEY (13-3-2)
COACH Tom Burnell CAPTAINS Rich Evans, Don O'Neill

Following in the footsteps of last year's team, this year's icemen were champions of the South Shore League. With this distinction the Skippers have earned a top 20 rating and a trip to the States. Graduating seniors are: Mike Julian, Rich Evans, Don O'Neill, Chris Mahoney, Dan Bowen, and John Casey.

BOYS' BASKETBALL (9-11)
COACH Eddie Manelli CAPTAIN Jack Maloney

Aided by the talent of Tony Bogarty, the hoopsters made great advances this season. The highlight of the year was Cohasset's upset victories which enabled them to gain the Scituate Christmas Tourney championship. Future teams are sure to be powers in the South Shore League. Jack Malone, Dan Anderson, and Larry Hoogaveen will be graduating.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL (7-12)
COACH Bill Fallon CAPTAIN Gia Baresi

Girls' basketball had an up and down season this year. However, they managed to defeat each team in the league at least once. Unfortunately, the Skippers missed a trip to the States by one loss. Seniors Gia Baresi, Liz Glasfeld, Jill Grant, Beverly Mullany, Alana O'Brien, and Kristen Wilkin will be missed next year.

GYMNASTICS (8-2)
COACH Andrea Polardy CAPTAINS Karen Ekberg, Richele Sargent

This winter Cohasset Gymnasts continued their winning ways. Though they gave up their league title, their efforts on the whole were successful. Six-year starter Karen Ekberg will be lost to graduation.

WRESTLING (0-16)
COACH Ken Ross CAPTAINS Paul Igo, Lee Reid

With a lack of experience this year the Cohasset wrestling squad looks to the future and the rise of the Munchkins. Graduating seniors are Paul Igo and Scott Arnold.

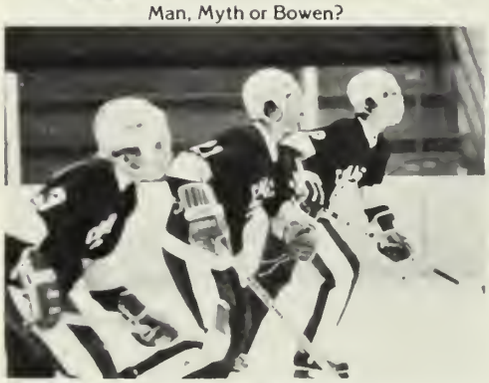
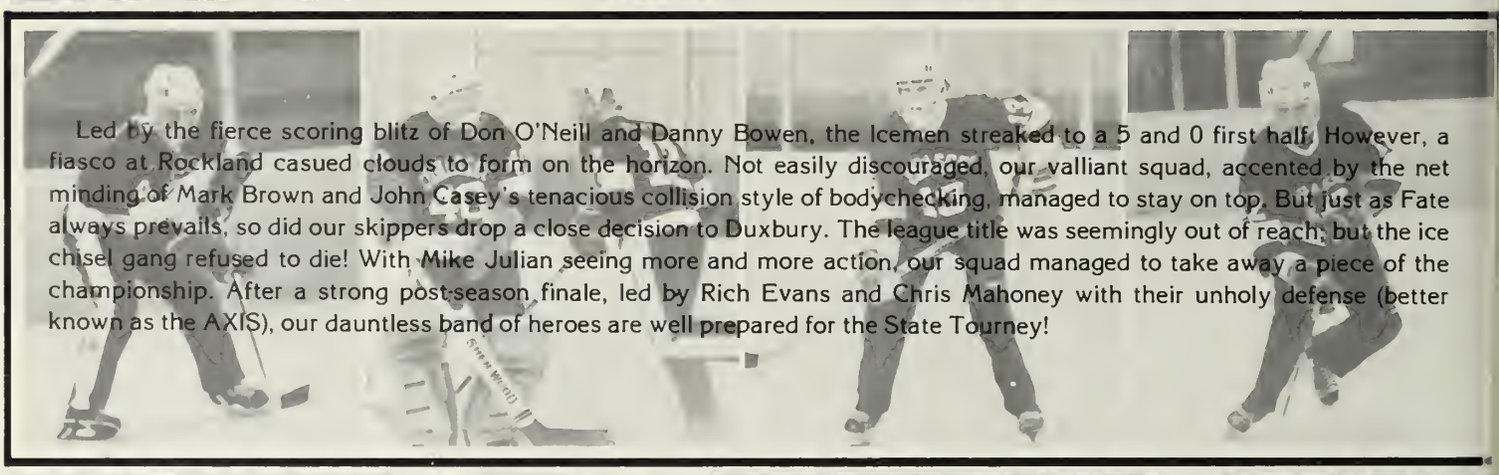
Man, Myth or Bowen?



Lost in space



Led by the fierce scoring blitz of Don O'Neill and Danny Bowen, the Icemen streaked to a 5 and 0 first half. However, a fiasco at Rockland casued clouds to form on the horizon. Not easily discouraged, our valliant squad, accented by the net minding of Mark Brown and John Casey's tenacious collision style of bodychecking, managed to stay on top. But just as Fate always prevails, so did our skippers drop a close decision to Duxbury. The league title was seemingly out of reach; but the ice chisel gang refused to die! With Mike Julian seeing more and more action, our squad managed to take away a piece of the championship. After a strong post-season finale, led by Rich Evans and Chris Mahoney with their unholy defense (better known as the AXIS), our dauntless band of heroes are well prepared for the State Tourney!

Mr. Crowell

Those high school days of telling tales and biting nails are gone,
But in my mind I know they will still live on and on;
But how do you thank someone who has taken you from crayons to perfume?
It isn't easy, but I'll try . . . THANK YOU ALL:

It was 25 years after Ted Crough locked himself out of his running car, 25 years after John Adams was sucked unexpectedly down a garbage disposal, and 25 years after Mark Brown donated his five year old son to the Christian Children Fund saying: "There's more where that came from." It was 2015 and John Ryan still gave pictures of himself for Christmas.

There were a few minor changes in the American scheme of things, however: the national anthem was "Old Wisconsin" now and anyone convicted of armed robbery was sentenced to a week in a Volvo with Justine Hoffman. President Laugelle, who left his office only for on-camera interviews and Mother Nature, was forced to reprimand the Washington Lamplight when it printed an article sensationalizing the fact that he called his wife mommy. Despite the pleas of Congressmen Maloney and Cunning, the House cut all Social Security benefits and used the money to reupholster the bears at Yellowstone National Park. After repeated threats, the population was divided back up into Ethnic Groups and it could no longer enjoy the togetherness of several thousand bodies corralled into the one room National Survey House. But, even as co-anchors Terry Finnegan and Larry Hoogeveen closed the evening news, the class of 1983 was gathering for a night of reminiscence and recollection.

Gia Barresi was the first to arrive. She said she wanted to have plenty of time in case she didn't make it all the way in on the first try. With her was Liz Glasfeld, Joanna Fone, and Nancy Kuntz who recently had to give up her dating service because she wasn't getting enough sleep. About ten minutes later, Bev Mullaney, Katie Clinton, and Jennifer Alemian walked in with Alana O'Brien who recently starred in the remake of the "Blue Lagoon."

Things had already begun to pick up by the time Don O'Neill, Tom O'Brien, and Bob Driscoll stumbled in. Pat Broderick was led in behind them; he was handcuffed. Rumor had it he was arrested by hospital officials in New Jersey when he persisted in sending CandyGrams to the Diabetic Ward. Bill Cuff said he knew nothing about the squad car door that was strapped to his back. Danny O'Brien and Danny Bowen agreed it was probably a tumor or something.

At nine, the pledge was led by Den mothers Joy Pratt, Connie Delaney, and Ann O'Connell who almost lost her six year old son when she washed his clothes by hand and forgot to let him up for air. Carolyn Davis and Kathy Kendrick still think you're supposed to say "amen" at the end. So they did.

Off in a corner, Ann Marie Laggroteria and Joy Ditmar were discussing Michael Julian's tragic surfing accident off the Californian coast.

"At least he went with his sun glasses on," they were saying.

"He would have wanted it that way," Karen Kubik added.

Not far away, Ken McGrath, who had made a comfortable living modeling underwear, was saying that Kodak had no right to fire John Keegan just because he named his new camera line "Symplex II." Paul Igo agreed.

"Really! Can't a guy make a mistake?" Fred Zotos demanded.

"You've certainly made your share," Jeff Giles replied.

At the same table, Sean O'Connor was attempting to ridicule Ken Breitkruz for screaming during a college seminar. Ken responded by pointing out that Sean was the only member of the class of '83 who asked to be out on a carrier with 5,000 other men for nine months at a time.

Across the room, Polly Marsh, Linda Sadler, and Elaine Mullen were playing poker with Sam Barrett who had recently bought three attack dogs and had their teeth removed.

Maureen Kelley, business woman and part time mother, asked where Steve Camardo was. Maureen Buckley, who brought fun to the after school special, said he thought the party was in Boston.

"It is!" said Susan Douglas, war correspondent for People Magazine.

"Oh God he'll never find it," responded Jay Santini.

It was 11 by the time Jill Grant, who was something other than a cruise director, and Kristin Wilkin walked in with Mia Graham who had raised a family of five on only wheat thins. Shannon Collins, still fervently denying that he had ever neutered a cat, took it upon himself to tell them about Michael Lantz who became the first man in history to be smothered to death in his sleep by tent caterpillars. Not far away, travel agent Chrissie Ralff was arguing logic with nihilists Lisa Gunville and Donna Beamon; Andy Long was discussing his degree in Donkey Basketball with leftist Pam Messner.

At midnight, the ceremonies began.

"We are sorry to announce," began Paul Johnson and his co-host Bob Meers, "that Marley Rabstejnek who was recently arrested for riding bareback in the Arbor Day Parade, will not be with us tonight."

"Colin Martin," Patty White followed quickly, "has retreated into isolation in the New Hampshire hills after repeated accusations that he was really Daniel Webster."

"That's ridiculous!" exclaimed Danny Anderson. "Didn't he die at the Alamo?"

"I was sure I saw him at graduation," said John Casey.

Barbara MacDonald, Rhonda Whitney, and Kathy Young served from the bar as Mark DiNardo, Maria MasMarques, Peter Madge, Joe Burke, Lisa Powers, and Maryellen Maurer played volleyball. Referee Guy Martin, still wearing his Ocean Research t-shirt, said he had never seen such violence.

Brian Mullaney walked in moments later with drummer/producer Jim Wirth who ran a counseling clinic. They were followed by Wayne Robbins, Paul Riley, Robby Lowe, and Bill "give me the money first" Riley. Adam Scott greeted them at the door with Dawn McAllister whose promising acting career was cut short when she misspoke during a toothpaste commercial on national television.

Suddenly, the crowd burst into applause. All eyes turned toward the door. Yes! It was screen sensation Tom Wigmore fresh from the set of "Gumby the Clay Boy." Behind him came columnist Dianne Pixley and her sister Denise, Chris Winn and Keri Vallas who was fashion coordinator for the Hair Bear Bunch. Rich Evans, Mark Gunville, Amy Laue, and Caroline Kleir were asking Chris Mahoney if it was true that on his days off, he dressed up like Teddy Roosevelt, kidnapped children, and led them in a reenactment of San Juan Hill. Dave Fahy explained that he broke both his legs when he tried to ride down three flights of stairs in a collapsible wheel chair.

Three tables away, John Kuhn, Emily Glasfeld, Paul Winn, and child psychologist Tara Pompeo were sitting with Susan Collins who had become a nun. Bill Davenport, who was sent a Consumer Reports by the Dartmouth Admissions Staff, was commenting on Mark Caughey's touching Christmas epic "The Easter Seals." Chris Peachell was exchanging witticisms with Chris J. Winn who had given up his accounting position and gone to work at a night club where he was paid $300 a night to impersonate Neil Sedaka. Susan Hobson sat down next to him wearing only an extra-large t-shirt which read "Nuclear Arms Aren't Right and Left."

Laura Howe, Richard MasMarques, Lori Stover, and Ann Marie Sliney made up the night's debate panel which tackled the age-old issue of abortion. Lisa Tinory and Chrissie Sullivan agreed it should be the baby's choice. Chris Mack, who had bought the Red Lion Inn and converted it into a restaurant, was telling Eric Christensen that he made it a point never to comment on Soviet politics in mixed company.

Kathleen Kendrick, who had become Charles Nelson Reily's stuntwoman and Brenda Kehoe were the first to leave. Sarah Whitney, Ann Chittim, and Heidi Conley followed quickly. They insisted on knowing why Amber Clapp changed her name. Ellen Ciciotte was telling Caroline Zwicker and Amy Urmson that she was still amazed that Karen Eckberg could split atoms but couldn't tie her shoes. Pam Faison and Donna Scott were discussing Chris Herbert's newest novel Life with Marilyn. Melissa Mellow said she thought his first, Real Men Can't Spell Quiche was much better. Susan LaVange and Sarah Whitney agreed and went and got a dictionary.

Anne Koehrer and Jaime Stallard made a guest appearance that night; Bill McAuliffe was going to write but he wasn't allowed to have anything sharp. Actress Diann Keller, who had made a fortune doing a Broadway adaptation of one of Norman Mailer's more recent novels, was having a drink with Red Sox owner Beth Cogill as the lights began to flicker off.

The class of 1983 was gone. And we look back from 25 years down the road. We try to remember what we didn't forget and we try to forget what we didn't remember.

Jeff Giles

(special thanks to Mark Caughey)
